Aurora Health Care Trustee Honored with WHA Award

Daniels presented with 2014 Trustee of the Year

MILWAUKEE (October 23, 2014)----John Daniels, Jr., Aurora Health Care Board chair, received the Wisconsin Hospital Association's 2014 Trustee of the Year Award October 22 at an event held in Milwaukee. Daniels was nominated by Aurora Health Care President/CEO Nick Turkal, MD. WHA President Steve Brenton presented the award.

Since joining Aurora's Board of Directors in 2008, Daniels has exemplified leadership in discerning and addressing Wisconsin's health care needs. His perspective and knowledge have helped to illuminate many local, state and national issues. His energetic advocacy helps ensure that Aurora remains focused on clinical quality, the patient experience and Aurora's role in the community.

Daniels also serves as chair emeritus of the law firm Quarles and Brady, after a six-year term as chair of the firm.

"John has a long-standing record of leadership in our community," according to Dr. Turkal. "His contributions to the advancement of education, race relations, arts and culture, economic development and health care are innumerable."

Daniels' national accomplishments are numerous, but include National Entrepreneur of the Year and a Spirit of Excellence Award from the American Bar Association.
